HTS Members elected 2019 ASM Awardees

HTS is pleased to announce that two of its members have been named a recipient of a 2019 ASM Award. The awards will be presented at ASM’s annual Awards Dinner, October 1 in Portland, OR during MS&T19. Congratulations!

2019 ASM Award Recipients

William Hunt Eisenman Award

Dr. B. Lynn Ferguson, FASM,
President
DANTE Solutions Inc.
Cleveland, OH

“For contributions to the technology and understanding of heat treating and thermal processing sciences, and advancing the use of analytical methods for heat treat process and subsequent product improvement.”

The award was established in 1960, in memory of a founding member of ASM, and its first and only secretary for 40 years. It recognizes unusual achievements in industry in the practical application of materials science and engineering through production or engineering use.

Bronze Medal Award

Dr. Danielle L. Cote
Assistant Professor, Materials Science and Engineering
Worcester Polytechnic Institute, MA

“For commendable and significant research in the areas of computational thermodynamics, thermal processing, and alloy design, together with leadership in promoting diversity in STEM education.”
