NOTE: If you have safety glasses, please bring them with you.

The Walpole site is primarily engaged in machining, assembly and test of controllable pitch propeller systems for US navy ships.

Tour attendees will be required to wear safety shoes and safety glasses with side shields. Glasses will be made available, but there is a limited number of slip-on safety ‘booties’.

The Kamewa CP-A controllable pitch hub is an evolution of XF5 system, renowned for its high reliability and blade bearing arrangement designed to avoid peak pressures and cavitation.

Computational fluid dynamics (CFD) and cavitation tank testing were used to refine the contours of the propeller hub and blade roots for optimum performance.
